DUAL PATHWAY PROGRAMMES

HOW ARE THE DUAL PATHWAY PROGRAMMES AND NCEA LEVEL 2 & 3 CONNECTED?

Dual Pathway programmes, and the subjects that are studied at school, are designed to help students achieve NCEA Levels 2 or 3. They are also designed to help students gain credits for their chosen Vocational Pathway.

WHY SHOULD STUDENTS ENROL IN A DUAL PATHWAY COURSE?

There are a number of great reasons why students should enroll in a dual pathway programme:

- Get a head start on a career while achieving NCEA Levels 2 or 3
- Experience what tertiary study is really like
- Sample a tertiary subject without having to commit to full-time tertiary study
- Develop a clear pathway into further study and a higher level qualification for the future

HOW SHOULD STUDENTS APPLY?

If students want to be considered for a Dual Pathway programme, they will ideally be a Year 12 or 13 student in 2025. Year 11 students may be able to enroll by special arrangement between the Cook Islands Tertiary Training Institute and secondary schools

Typically, a student will have:

- Achieved NCEA Level 1
- Demonstrated a commitment to learning and have support from the family
- Support from the college for entry into a Dual Pathways programme

Principals are more than welcome to enquire with the Cook Islands Tertiary Training Institute to talk through the Dual Pathway courses on offer for 2025.
